INDEPENDENT PROJECTS

Vladstudio website

In 2003 I started Vladstudio website as a way to share my digital pictures in the form of desktop wallpapers. It's done entirely by me, including design, front-end and back-end development, and 500+ pictures, available as wallpapers for all kinds of devices, Facebook covers, digital cards, online puzzles.

Who Stole the Moon? E-book and paper book

In 2010, I illustrated and self-published a paper book for kids. Later, as a part of Windypress team, I worked on Who Stole the Moon? e-book: adopted illustrations for e-book format, developed our own Javascript engine for interactive reading, created Windypress logo and website.
